DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-20 are pending in this application. Claims 1-9 (in part), 9-14, 15-19 (in part) and 20 are withdrawn from further consideration by the Examiner, 37 C.F.R. § 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention. The withdrawn subject matter is patentably distinct from the elected subject matter as it differs in structure and element and would require separate search considerations. In addition, a reference, which anticipates one group, would not render obvious the other.

Information Disclosure Statement

Applicant's Information Disclosure Statements, filed on October 29, 2003 have been considered. Please refer to Applicant's copy of the 1449 submitted herewith.

Response to Restriction

Applicants' election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-9 and 15-19 (all claims in part), drawn to products of Formula (I),

, and specific compound of Example

6, , depicted in page 21, of the specification in response filed on July 08, 2004 is acknowledged. Applicant's arguments filed July 08, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive with respect to the restriction requirement. Applicants argue that the restriction requirement does not establish that searching all the inventions would constitute an undue burden to the Patent Office. Applicant also argues that in the case of an elected product claim, rejoinder is to be permitted when a product claim is found allowable and the withdrawn process claim depends from or otherwise includes all the limitations of an allowed product claim. Applicant traverses the restriction requirement if, once the elected species has been found to be allowable, examination is not expanded to generic claims encompassing the elected species. Applicant also argues that restricting the claims in the manner suggested in the restriction requirement constitutes an undue burden to Applicants as well as the public.

However, even though an art rejection has not been made in this application, the requirement for restriction is maintained and the search has not been extended. It is pointed out that the restriction requirement is made under 35 U.S.C. 121. 35 U.S.C. 121 gives the Commissioner (Director) the authority to limit the examination of an application where two or more independent and distinct inventions are claimed to only one invention. The Examiner has indicated that more than one independent and distinct invention is claimed in this application and has restricted (limited) the claimed subject matter accordingly. For example, the claims encompass heteroaryl groups which are variously classified, therefore "heteroaryl" has been restricted out of the generic embodiment identified for examination. The following is an illustration of the varied classification of the heteroaryl groups: pyrazinyl is classified in class 544 and subclass 336+; pyrimidinyl is classified in class 544 and subclass 242+; pyridinyl is classified in class 546 and subclass 268.1+; oxazolyl is classified in class 548 and subclass 215+; thiazolyl is classified in class 548 and subclass 146+; etc. . . Thus, the requirement to restrict the claims in this application is predicated on the fact that the claimed subject matter involves more than one independent and distinct invention. No where to Applicants argue to the contrary. No where do Applicants point out and give reasons why the claims do not involve independent or distinct subject matter. Accordingly, the restriction is proper. Moreover, it would constitute a burden to extend the search because separate search considerations would be involved in both the U.S. Patents and in the literature. The examination process following the search could easily result in different and thus burdensome considerations.

The restriction requirement here is predicated on the premise that the various compounds involved differ in structure and element so much so as to be patentably distinct, i.e. a reference which anticipated the elected compounds claimed would not even render obvious the others. Again, 35 U.S.C. 121 gives the Commissioner (Director) the authority to limit the examination of an application to a single invention. Applicant has not presented evidence that the examined subject matter is patentably indistinct from the non-examined subject matter. Nor have the even argued to the contrary. Moreover, the sheer number of variables, their huge possibilities, and the almost incomprehensible number of permutations and combinations thereof result in compounds so numerous and diverse so as to be a burden just to classify, search, and examine. Accordingly, the requirement to restrict is considered proper and is maintained. The search and examination of the application is directed to the generic embodiment identified for examination only.

The claims in the elected Group have not been found allowable, therefore, the possibility of rejoinder of Groups II and III cannot be addressed at this time. Whether the public will be inconvenienced because they will not know whether Applicants will file a divisional application to the non-elected subject matter is not a required consideration for a restriction requirement (see 35 U.S.C. 121). In accordance with M.P.E.P. 821.04 and In re Ochiai, 71 F.3d 1565, 37 USPQ 1127 (Fed. Cir. 1995), rejoinder of product claims and method of use claims commensurate in scope with the allowed product claims will occur following a finding that the product claims are allowable. Until such time, a restriction between product claims and process is deemed proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Status of the Claims

Claims 1-20 are pending in this application. Claims 1-9 (in part), 9-14, 15-19 (in part) and 20, as previously stated, are withdrawn from further consideration by the Examiner, 37 C.F.R. § 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention. The withdrawn subject matter is patentably distinct from the elected subject matter as it differs in structure and element and would require separate search considerations. In addition, a reference, which anticipates one group, would not render obvious the other.

The scope of the invention of the elected subject matter is as follows:

Compounds of formula I,

,depicted in claim 1, wherein:

W is as claimed; Y is CR₇; X is N; R₁ – R₂ are as defined; one of R₃ or R₄ represents a heterocyclic group having one oxygen as a heteroatom and the other is as defined except that it does not represent a heterocyclic group; R₆ – R₉, R₁₃, R₁₄, and R₂₀ – R₂₄ are as defined except wherein they represent a heteroaryl; R₁₀ – R₁₂ and R₁₅ – R₁₉ are as claimed

Art Unit: 1626

As a result of the election and the corresponding scope of the invention identified supra, the remaining subject matter of claims 1-6 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142 (b) as being drawn to non-elected inventions. The withdrawn compounds contain varying functional groups such as , piperdine, thiopiran, pyran, pyrrole etc, which are chemically recognized to differ in structure and function. This recognized chemical diversity of the functional groups can be seen by the various classifications of these functional groups in the U.S. classification system, i.e. class 546 subclass 249(+) (pipedine), class 548 subclass 400(+) (pyrrole), class 549 subclass 1(+) (thiopyran) etc. Therefore the subject matter which are withdrawn from consideration as being non-elected subject differ materially in structure and composition and have been restricted properly a reference which anticipated but the elected subject matter would not even render obvious the withdrawn subject matter and the fields of search are not co-extensive.

Objections

Claims 1-9 and 15-19 are objected to for containing elected and non-elected subject matter. It is suggested that the claims be amended to be limited to the elected invention as identified supra.
